To whom it may concern,

Re: Deb Jackson, Massage Therapist

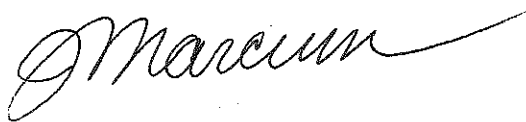

I have been the beneficiary of many massages over the years, from high end spas to wholistic healing centers and private practitioners; encompassing techniques ranging from tried and true therapeutic techniques to more experimental modalities. The first massage I received from Deb Jackson was a true eye-opener! I experienced physical and emotional release unlike anything I've ever known was possible through massage. She has 'spoiled' me now, getting a massage from anyone else is always a letdown, and I miss the connection that she makes with me, and the tangible results that come from it.

Deb is a true gifted healer whose intuitive ability makes her unique and special. I have had many massages from her, and she never works from any 'scripted' formula. Her unique ability to listen to my body and adapt and respond with exactly what is needed—even if I haven't told her what my complaint is—is uncanny.

Deb is always pursuing perfection in her technique, and takes time to discuss my needs that go beyond the table that she may have discovered during a massage. She cares about her patients and it shows in her work and in her results. She is an advocate for my total well-being. She has been very helpful in sharing her voluminous knowledge of alternative health techniques, which is always appreciated.

I can heartily recommend Deb Jackson's services without hesitation!

Sincerely,
